School officials, who previously had urged Marien residents to have their bundles of paper on their purches by 8:30 a, m. Friday, moved the time up to 8 o'clock this morning pointing out that some boys and girls will get an early start and get some of their work done before school opens.

The program, called "functional swimming," by the Red Cross, has picked up the name of combat swimming, perhaps because, with its emphasis on self-preservation, it also stresses those commando-like abilities that en-able the land fighter to be efficient when he must approach his goal through the water. The Limits of Patience

SEN. BARKLEY'S valuement declaration of rebellion against Propositi Route oit on the revenue bill mous amous the tension between congress and the Woute House to a cun x

Sen, Borkley as chajor ty leader to the or the since 1927 has been Mr. Robered's agent in the handling of administration buls. It has been I his job to get legislation approved, a tetner tepersonally liked it or not. As he said in this outburst on Wednesday, he has "carried the fing over rougher territory than any ever traversed by any majority leader countines. with little help on the renate floor loss more often with less help from the other end of Pennsylvania avenue." It is no secret in it is elimits of his patience were approximed offer; anen Mr. Roosevelt sent his bad-tempera accomemage on the revenue bill to congress, the limits were reached and Sen. Barkley exposed. What he had to say increaster-and it was the of the most masterful jobs of free-backet bilistering performed in recent times-on to allealy had been in his heart and the neutro of many other congressmen a long time. It s recalled that Sen. Talt said somewhat the same thing when Mr. Roosevelt insuited congress on a the soldier ballot problem, but he spoke as a member of the minority, not as Mr. Roosevelts personal itaison agent in the upper house

The climax of tension now reached is a momentous turn of events. Its potential repercussions in the operation of congress the remainder of this year are so tremendous that even sensiors and representatives only can guess at them. If Mr. Roorevelt is unable to reorganize his party's congressional delegation successfully, the remainder of his legislative program is junk. If members of congress cannot find within themselves the shility to agree on a coalition program of their own, they will be working at loose ends. In a sense, they have declared their independence of executive domination. Certainly, they have expressed resentment of executive abuse of their composite character. It remains now to be seen what they will do in their new mood of independence.

Sen. Barkley's present term in the senate expires at the end of this session of congress. Though he has not announced his candidacy for reelection, it is assumed that he will runand it also may be assumed he did not call for a showdown with Mr. Roosevelt until he had estimated the probabilities in Kentucky, where his constituents are deciding who should represent their state in the years ahead. To go a step further with political probability. Sen. Barkley probably has given a lot of deep hought to the election of a Republican governor. in normally Democratic Kentucky last year and the ability of a Republican to carry the fourth congressional district by a majority of 13,000 as against a majority of 4,000 for the Democrat who ran in the same district in 1942. We do not say that Sen. Barkley has used the occasion to let loose of Franklin D. Rocsevelt's coat tall, because only the senator knows what is in his own mind. The circumstances suggest, however, that it may have been vastly easier for Sen. Barkley to part company with the New Deal in February, 1944, that it would have been in 1938 when there was a good deal of scandal about the way the late WPA turned on the heat in Kentucky to make certain that "Dear Alben," who previously had been installed as Mr. Roosevelt's choice for cenate majority leader, would be back on the job for the term now in its last year,

Demolition Squade

EXPANSION and intensification of bombing warfare against Germany will produce imagination-staggering statistics pending the climax of invasion. They need to be read with the right key to their interpretation, to keep them tied to reality. The key is the theory of air power.

The massed bomber forces being used regainst Germany need to be thought of as figura demolition squads. Their function is to reduce to rubble as many as possible of the vital facilities of the German war effort. The fighting they do in transit-even the fighting done by their fighter escorts-is incidental to the destruction of factories, military installations, power plants, transportation centers. Even the lives lost are incidental; it is not Germans who must be destroyed in this kind of warfare, but Germany's ability to continue the war. Reduced to terms of one unit, if a four-motored bomber and its crew of 10 highly trained men can attain one dimeet hit on the assembly line of a German airplane factory, the war is shortened more by their efforts in a few hours than by the combined efforts of half a million valiant men and all their costly equipment on a remote fighting front like Italy. Aerial demolition squads have revised the whole nature of war by going over the enemy's fighting fronts to demolish his sources of supply. The fighting they do is the by-product; the damage they do to the enemy's sources of supply is all that counts.

I date say that during the past seven years of tenure as majority leader I have carried that flag over rougher territory than was ever traversed by any previous majority leader. Some times I have carried it with little help here on the senale floor and more freuently with little help from the other end of Pennsylvania Avc.

Whether I have made a good majority leader, an indifferent majority leader or a bad majority leader, the record itself will speak. There is nothing in that record that I would now change; there is nothing in that rerord that I would not repeat under the same circumstances that existed during this course of my legislative nistory.

But, Mr. "President, there is something more precious to me than any honor that can be conferred upon me by the Senate of the U. S. or by the people of Kentucky or by the President of Heinz Dill this republic, and that is the approval of my own conscience and my own self-respect. That selfrespect and the rectitude of that conscience I propose on this oc casion to maintain.

I thank heaven that my future happiness does not depend upon whether I shall retain the post of majority lender of the Senate for another hour. As proof of that Mr. President, and in confirma-tion of this statement, I have enlied a conference of the Demo-eratic majority for 10.30 o'clock tomorrow morning in the conference 100m of the Senate office building, at which time my resignation will be tendered and my ervices terminated in the post which I now hold at this desk
